SEMINAR SYNOPSIS

85% of consumers dislike the IVR experience, according to Accenture.

A recent survey of 500 consumers sought to learn about their experiences with IVRs when they called businesses or government from their mobile phones. The experiences were so miserable that 86% tried to “zero out” to a human contact centre agent after trying valiantly to get their problem resolved on the IVR!

Businesses, on the other hand, are faced with the conundrum of improving the IVR experience without throwing away their expensive, legacy IVR systems.

The solution? Modernising the IVR with digitalisation and AI.

Join us for this Breakfast Business School seminar where you will learn:

- Latest industry trends on IVRs
- Details from the hot-off-the-press survey findings on the IVR customer experience
- Three steps to modernising IVRs with digitalisation and AI
- What wow looks like in the modernised IVR experience

DIRECTORS CLUB

Today's Directors Club has its origin as a supper club in London's Mayfair.

The Directors' Dining Club, as it was known, had its home at Claridge's Hotel and brought together business leaders of the day to discuss trends and disruptive forces for change.

In February 2010, Jon Snow (founder and chairman) re-constituted the dining club as the Directors Club and so a business lifestyle and networking institution was born.

The Club motto To endeavour. To achieve captures the spirit of the organisation and the ambitions of its members.
